Back to School Blast giveaway hop featuring Dots on Tots

August 1, 2013 By Dede 9 Comments

Welcome to the Back to School Blast giveaway hop hosted by Generations Of Savings and This Flourishing Life. The giveaway runs from August 1 through the 14th. I hope you'll take the time to enter the other giveaways hosted on the linky below. There are lots of great prizes to win!

Our sponsor for this event is Dots on Tots. This fabulous online store is a great source for organic baby and toddler ear protection hats. It always seemed to be snowing in the springtime when my babies were born. Keeping a hat over their tender little ears was a no-brainer. My son was especially prone to ear infections so we had to make sure his sensitive little ears were covered even on warm but windy days. It was hard to find hats with flaps because we weren't in the middle of winter. Most stores sold out of their winter gear in December and never restocked. I wish I had known about Dots on Tots back in those days! I love these little hats even more because they are made from 100% certified organic cotton. Plus it doesn't hurt that the hats are SUPER cute. Don't you just love a hat on that sweet little head?

Thanks to Dots on Tots, one lucky winner will receive a flap hat of the winner's choice (depending on size and availability of the product.) This giveaway is open to US readers ages 18+, void where prohibited by law. If you don't have a little one, consider entering to win for a friend with a baby. Be sure to share it on your social networks so that your friends can enter, too. You can easily share using the Flare bar on the left sidebar. The flap hat would make such a cute baby shower gift! Good luck!
