Halloween Trick-or-Treat Safety Essentials for Kids and a GIVEAWAY!

Congrats to our winner Jaclyn!

While kids are running around town trick-or-treating, it can be a fun time of year – but nothing can turn fun into fright faster than an accident or the post-Halloween cold/flu. For parents looking to keep their little goblins safe and healthy this holiday, keep reading for some top fall essentials that will keep the little ones safe as they take on the town.

Dots on Tots: Available in various styles, colors and sizes, these 100% organic hats will keep baby and toddler's ears and head covered in the cool fall weather as they trick-or-treat. Specifically designed to protect children from, ear, nose and throat complications, Dots on Tots hats are a great supplement to a Halloween costume that will keep kids safe. Styles start at $19.99 and can be found at www.dotsontots.com.

Hope Paige: These bracelets are not only a great complement to any costume, but will keep kids safe, too! Creating fun bracelet styles that will only stand out to medical professionals in emergency, Hope Paige bracelets are a one-of-a-kind way to rev up your style while staying safe. For those with allergies, diabetes or other medical conditions these bracelets are essential to keeping kids safe when scouring for candies that could flare up allergies. Styles start at $5.99 at www.hopepaige.com.

Melissa & Doug: This flashlight is perfect to keep your little critters alert and in-sight. As it gets dark fairly early by October, these little flashlights allow your little goblins to find their way trick or treating, and allow you to keep track of their whereabouts. With a fun ladybug detail, these flashlights are too cute to pass up! $7.99 at www.toysrus.com.

Cold-EEZE Cold Remedy: Keep the germs at bay even before you leave for trick or treating with natural, homeopathic remedies, such as ones that use zinc or honey. Keep this on hand as the kids (over 12!) take on their hunt for candy and apply as soon as they feel the tickle in their throats – they'll say goodbye to sickness and hello to a hauntingly happy holiday! Found at www.coldeeze.com.

And guess what? In the spirit of goodies, ghouls, candy and treats (and Halloween only 1 day away!) We are giving One lucky TheStatenIslandFamily.com reader a chance to win some of these great essentials for parents to keep on hand during trick or treating or any time: a Dots on Tots headgear, A hope Paige bracelet and a Cold-EEZE pack!
