DOTS ON TOTS, a baby headwear company, specializes in baby and toddler hats made from natural, organic materials. The owner and a head-designer of the company is a mother of two. As a mother and professional, she knows design concepts as well as what important for the baby. Newborn skin is often very sensitive and it is very important to choose the right clothing to avoid an allergic reaction. That's why Dots on Tots uses organic, certified fabric made in USA only.

100 % organic cotton

is grown in fields without pesticides or chemical fertilizers and harvested without defoliants. To be certified organic cotton, the cotton plants must have been grown in a field that has not been chemically fertilized or sprayed with pesticides. As you can imagine, it costs a bit more as insect problems are treated by mechanical, not chemical means.
