Dots on Tots Keeps Children's Sensitive Ears Safe # review # giveaway

POSTED ON DECEMBER 10, 2013 BY RACHEL

My son has really sensitive skin. Whether it be diaper rash, eczema, or other skin irritations, he's had them. Luckily, there are companies out there that understand this and make fabulous products to correct these problems.

As most of us as parents know, newborns often have very sensitive skin. That's why Dots on Tots has created baby and toddler ear flap hats. These hats are made from natural, organic materials in order to avoid any allergic reactions in babies. These unique, aviator-style hats for the purpose of keeping children's ears as healthy as possible. These hats are double layered and seamless so that they don't irritate the skin. It also features soft Velcro closures on the flaps.

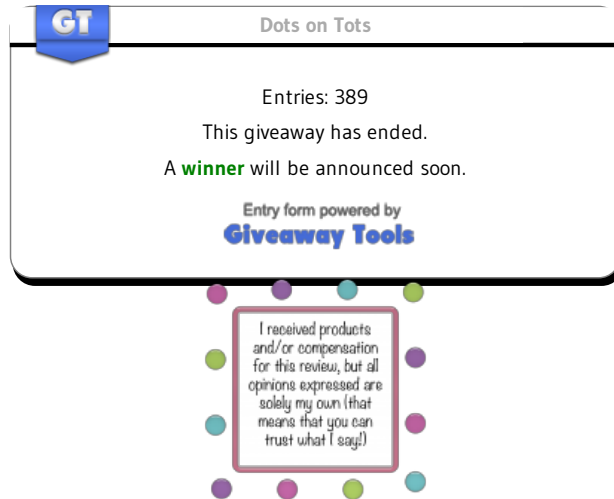

The Dots on Tots hats are available in Extra-Soft Organic Cotton, Lightweight Organic Fleece, and the Warm and Cozy Organic Sherpa. These styles feature:

- 100% certified organic cotton
- double layered, seamless
- soft, adjustable Velcro closure
- low impact dyes
- fabric manufactured in the USA

In addition to the above styles, Dots on Tots also makes a hearing protection hat, which protects infants who are sensitive to loud noises or who may be exposed to loud sounds. These hats feature inserts that use removable four-layer natural hemp fleece that help insulate the ear panels and protect the ears.

BUY IT: Dots on Tots are available online and range in price from $28.99 to $34.99.

WIN IT: Dots on Tots is giving me the opportunity to give away one cotton ear protection flaphat to a lucky reader. This would be great to give as a gift or just to keep for your own little one when the weather is cold! The contest runs through 11:59 p.m. EST on December 20, 2013. Enter using the form below. Good luck!
